Playreading Group 2 Report 2026

Due to the long waiting list for play reading within the u3a, this second group started In June 2026.

We are a small group with room for new members.

No previous acting experience is needed and of course there are no lines to remember, so avoiding those concerns.

We started off with Separate Tables by Terence Rattigan in June.

Present Laughter by Noel Coward was a second play and most recently we have read Flare Path also by Terence Rattigan.

Meetings are every six weeks and any suggestions for future plays are welcome.
